'Universal' Thermo-Cell SAD IRONS

There is little use in telling any housewife about the drudgery of ironing. She knows more about it than the men who make the irons, and yet some housewives still continue to use the old-fashioned irons, with the hot handle, or the obsolete spring handle, which rattles loose and is likely at any time to drop a heavy iron on the foot.

The "Universal Thermo-cell Sad Iron" is a non-conducting space surrounding the top and side surfaces of the iron. Owing to its construction, the heat can only radiate through the bottom or ironing surface of the iron, the natural tendency of the heat to rise being prevented by the "Universal" Thermo-cell.

Before purchasing your irons, do not neglect to consider the "Universal Thermo-cell" first. The many advantages it gives to the housewife, its method of conducting heat to the point desired and its smoothness in "gliding" on the surface of the cloths, are certainly things worth considering when making your selection. Do not get the impression that they are expensive, for this is the wrong idea. A set like cut shown here will cost

$2.25 a Set

"Universal Brand" goods bring happiness to every household.

C. N. KENYON & CO.'S CASH BARGAIN STORE

TALK OF THE TOWN

Great sale of voile flouncing Monday, 40c, 50c, and 60c at Vaughan's. All the banks of the city will be closed all day to-morrow, Washington's birthday.

Photographs and pictures of any kind neatly framed at the C. Bau studio, Currier building.

The Presbyterian church choir will meet for rehearsal to-night at 7:30 o'clock. Please be prompt.

William Stewart went this afternoon to St. Johnsbury, where he will visit friends for a few days.

There is to be a Washington's birthday dance in Howland hall Saturday, Feb. 22, Riley's orchestra.

J. P. Corcoran of Short street went last night to Burlington, where he will make a short visit with friends.

The Methodist boy scouts will meet at the church Friday evening, Feb. 21, at 7 o'clock. Full attendance desired.

Henry Hull of South Woodbury arrived in the city yesterday for a week's visit with friends on Batchelder street.

Miss Marguerite Brown of Jefferson street went to-day to St. Johnsbury, where she will visit for a few days with relatives.

The costumes to be worn in the minstrel show next Tuesday and Wednesday are well worth seeing. They are of most elaborate design and are extremely beautiful.

For Sale—Grocery store, fixtures and stock in excellent condition. Owner retires from business on account of ill health. Apply to Louis Joseph, Granite street, near bridge.

Headquarters for all persons interested in the candidacy of Alderman William H. Ward for mayor in the coming city election have been opened in room 8 in the Aldrich building.

Cards have been received in this city from Frank L. Small and Will A. Whitcomb, who are passing several weeks in Florida and Panama. Both are in good health and tell of inspecting the new canal.

Miss Agnes Olson entertained the members of the Arts and Crafts club last evening at her home on Washington street. The evening was devoted to valentine games and other diversions. During the evening refreshments were served.

Lucius Hitechek, who has been visiting with Mrs. C. W. Ball and Mrs. A. M. Pierce for the past few weeks, is ill at the home of the latter and will be unable to return to his home at Andover, Mass., for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt H. Wells of 47 Merchant street will give a reception in Howland hall this evening at 8:30 o'clock in honor of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Rand, who were recently married in Medford, Mass. Invitations have been issued for the affair.

A number of local trapshooters are planning to participate in the all-day shoot at the Montpelier Gun club's range on Curtis park Saturday. The shoot will begin at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon and continue until nightfall. Several valuable trophies have been offered to the high score men.

Walter R. Cox of Dover, N. H., a widely known horseman, who is to start horses in the ice races at Montpelier to-day and to-morrow, was a visitor among friends in the city to-day. Mr. Cox has one of the largest strings of horses in the country and along the grand circuit last summer his speed horses were started in larger numbers than any other stable.

Manager LaCasse of the Goddard seminary hockey was unsuccessful in his negotiations with St. Michael's college for a game to be played at Montpelier to-morrow. Attempts have been made to secure strong independent teams to play here, but arrangements have not been effected. Owing to the lateness of the season it is doubtful if any more games will be played this season unless the squad journeys into Canada again.

Spaulding high school students celebrated their signal victory over Goddard seminary at basketball last night in an enthusiastic manner. At the end of the game, squads of students kindled a bonfire at the intersection of Church and Washington streets, afterwards uniting in a parade that lasted over an hour and took in the principal streets of the city. The celebration was lacking in the element of boisterousness that is sometimes expected on such occasions and although police officers kept an eye on manifestations of youthful exuberance, their interference was never necessary.

Myron Davison, the young South Main street boy, who, it is alleged, was implicated in the burglary of the Reynolds & Sons hardware store a few days ago, along with the theft of money from C. J. Estabrook's store in South Barre, has been placed in the charge of Probation Officer Charles Smith of Montpelier for a month. Davison was arraigned before Judge F. J. Martin in probate court at Montpelier and it was at the instance of the court that he was placed under probation. He was allowed to return home and resume his school duties.

Rev. A. C. Griffin, acting pastor of St. Monica's church, has secured the services of three priests of St. Mary's cathedral at Burlington to deliver a series of Lenten sermons at the church on Friday evenings, commencing to-night and continuing for three weeks. Under this arrangement the sermons will be delivered on Friday evenings and on Sunday evenings there will be the "Way of the Cross," which customarily falls on Friday evenings. Rev. Francis A. Welsh will preach to-night at the church. On Friday, Feb. 28, Rev. John M. Kennedy will deliver a sermon and on Friday, March 7, Rev. William Cassidy will preach.

At the Barre Opera House.

Another large audience greeted the Billy Allen company at the opera house last evening to witness "The Girl from Chili," which proved to be another excellent potpourri of comedy and musical numbers, entirely different from any previous performance. To-night, there will be an exceptionally elaborate presentation of "A Night at the Wintergarden," an excellent reproduction of this famous resort in New York. Mr. Allen and Mr. Rosar will be seen as the two gay old sports, and Miss Rosar will assume an exact counterpart of the great "Gaby." The musical numbers and specialties will be novel and numerous. After the performance Mr. Allen will give away from the stage a real live blue-eyed baby. The matinee Saturday will be "Tatters in Fairyland" and at night "A Giddy Widow." Reserved seats are now on sale for both of these performances.

The Red Men will hold their ninth annual Washington's birthday celebration to-night in the Clan Gordon hall, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Daylight Store

TALK OF THE TOWN

Friday specials at Perry's.

The great lace sale begins Monday at Vaughan's.

February 22 being a legal holiday, the Aldrich public library will be closed all day.

A meeting of the Vermont Poultry association will be held at the Barre city court room Friday evening, Feb. 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

Make no arrangements for either Tuesday or Wednesday evenings, but plan to attend the civic federation minstrel show. This will be the best of its kind that has ever been presented in Barre.

Tickets are now on sale for a grand concert, under the auspices of Clan Gordon, No. 12, in the opera house March 28. The company is a strong one and a program of English, Irish and Scotch songs will be given, such as should appeal to the general public of Barre.

Robert Young, the comedian, who so greatly pleased a Barre audience two years ago, is included in the company and by special permission will give many features of "Buntz Pulls the Strings."

Madam Shirley Jackson makes her first appearance in Barre. She is a daughter of the late Robert Gibb, granite manufacturer, of Aberdeen, Scotland, and has been heard by several Barre people, who say Barre audiences have never heard her equal. Her husband, J. Shirley Jackson, the noted tenor, has been secured at big expense.

Miss Mary Ogilvie, the dramatic soprano, and W. L. Cockburn, the famous baritone, are included in the company. Clan Gordon is fortunate in getting together such a company.
